The House & Garden Festival, taking place at Olympia London, is an exceptional shopping destination encompassing interiors, garden and lifestyle brands alongside vetted art and antique dealers. Find the latest products from the likes of Arlo & Jacob, Crucial Trading, Orchid Furniture, Thomas Sanderson and Kitchen Architecture.

With an enriching programme of talks and workshops, it's also the perfect place to learn a new skill or seek advice about an upcoming project directly from the experts. These include the Expert Theatre talks and Expert Advice clinics with BIID professionals and RIBA accredited architects, taking on such topics as getting the best from your architect, choosing flooring, sustainable design and how to use traditional decorating ideas in modern ways. See right for some of the highlights from the programme.

Philip Mould OBE, president of Plantlife, will give a talk on undiscovered paintings in 'Fake, Fortune and Flowers'

Lucy Hughes-Hallett is a historian who will give a talk on 'Sown and Sewn: the gardens of restoration England'

Harriet Forde BIID president elect will be chairing a discussion on how to add value to your project □
